Building bridges and transforming lives through the power of music

SAVE THE DATE

LATE DECEMBER 2021

For thousands of years, Israel has been seen as the central location for faith around the world. Here, three major faith populations live in relative peace: Christians, Jews, and Muslims. In 2021, singers from around the world will join together in the Holy Land to sing Paul Aitken's "And None Shall Be Afraid: a plea for peace in 5 movements," presenting a concert that shines light on the fact that we are all one human race, and that there is significantly more that unites us than divides us. Our goal is to present a gala concert in the Holy Land, focusing on these peace prayers and other songs of peace. The concert will feature several hundred singers from around the world - from as many continents and faith traditions as possible.

Tentative Date: Late December 2021
